

My Arizona family asked me to write a short note about what Whispering Pines means to me.

Whispering Pines was our home for 17 years. It became a place of sanctuary and healing for us. We had the opportunity to meet people of many cultures, vocations and faith communities. It was wonderful and certainly a learning experience for us to be there and welcome all to our 'home.'

Thank you for your past, present and future sacrifices as you donate your time, effort and cash offerings to this special place. You have created a beautiful site for the thousands upon thousands who have visited this wonderful campground. It would be my hope that you have had that same experience on this mountaintop! We were blessed to call it home! Thank you!

It is indeed a sacred place. I hope that we can continue to provide this wonderful campground of peace, spirituality and safety for generations to come.
